FEATURED HOMES

The Columbia House is excited to welcome Rose K., our newest resident. Rose came to Columbia House from the Brighton House, bringing an extra ray of sunshine. When Rose is not working hard at NCSI, she can be found volunteering at the local nursing home or food shelf. Rose likes to talk your ear off about anything new with the MN Twins, and enjoys being a tease in a funny, loving way. Rose turned 50 years old a few months back and decided to share her 50th birthday bash with her peers and staff from both the Columbia and Brighton Houses. She decided to ditch the famous "Limo Ride" and chose to spend the entire day with peers and staff at Osaka Sushi, SEA LIFE Minnesota Aquarium, and Cinnabon. For the grand finale, staff snuck away with Rose to purchase two Minnesota Twins hats. Rose picked out a plaid one and of course a PURPLE one, while doing a dance that left smiles on the sales associates faces, giving them a chance to feel what her peers and staff feel everyday having Rose at Columbia House.

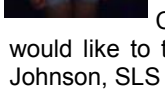

Dorothy L. has been busy taking care of the planting and "weed whacking" duties at the Columbia House and continues to work at the PKT office when work is available for her. Dorothy enjoys sitting outside (in warmer weather) singing and reminiscing about the "good times" with a cup of coffee. When Dorothy does take a break from the house she enjoys going to IHOP for their famous Belgian waffles.

Next we have Barbara B., who is still a hard worker at Ally People Solutions (formerly MTS). When Barb has down time she likes to sing, go to the bank, and visit the animals at the Humane Society. Barb really enjoys the different community activities that staff have come up with this past year. She has expressed that she especially likes to ride the exercise bike, "it's fun" she says.

The last Columbia House lady is Maryann F. Maryann has really been coming out of her shy shell lately, interacting more with her peers and staff. Peers have commented that "they like seeing Maryann's lovely face". Maryann expressed that she enjoys socializing with her peers as well. Every Thursday Maryann shops for the latest music, make-up, and clothes. She doesn't have any plans of giving up her "Diva" title any time soon.

Columbia House continues to be a busy, but lovely place for both residents and staff. I would like to take the time out to say THANK YOU to the staff at Columbia as well as Jennifer Johnson, SLS Director, for all her hard work and dedication to the ladies at Columbia!

Rayneshia Nunn, Columbia House Coordinator

Brrr! It's cold outside, but at the Green House we are as busy as usual. It is that time of year where we make hot cocoa on cold winter nights and enjoy the seasonal festivities.

Recently we had a big milestone birthday for Lisa B. She turned 50 years old! She got all dressed up and went out to Manny's Steakhouse for her celebration. We surprised her with her daughter and son-in-law showing up from out of town and she was overjoyed to see them. That was the hardest secret ever! Lisa had the best time and will surely be talking about it for quite a while. Otherwise she has been doing well, but would love it to be 100 degrees outside.

Kim B. has been busy working and getting her usual shopping done. She has been getting out to dances, visiting her family and socializing with friends. Kim has been motivating the ladies with positive energy and seems to really enjoy life to the fullest.

Sharon G. is doing well. She enjoyed the holidays and was often seen wearing her Viking Santa Hat! She has been busy "Sweating to the Oldies", shopping and visiting with family.

Then we have Miss Lynn Z. who recently decided to enroll in an exercise program and has been enjoying going to aquatic and Zumba classes every week. She loves that they play music during the aquatics class and her favorite song so far is Rubber Ducky. Lynn has also been spending time decorating the house during the holidays, visiting with family, going out dancing, and doing her arts and crafts projects.

From all of us at the Green House, please have a great new year!

Katie Fordyce, Green House Coordinator

SHARILYN'S - Parts I and II

Did you miss it? Miss what? The annual PKT Picnic, which this year was on September 14th, 2013, upon the Paradise Lady Cruise Boat on the Mississippi River. It was a wonderful time of hanging out and connecting with clients, staff, families, and friends of PKT. It was the perfect day to be on the river, low 70 degrees and a bit of a breeze. Though there were some clouds in the sky, that did not stop the fun, only the sunburns ☺. We boarded the ship around noon and everyone found a table where the view of the bluffs could be seen. First, we headed down river, towards Ford Parkway. The boat captain announced the presence of a bald eagle flying in front of us looking for fish to eat and lots of people enjoyed trying to spot it or help others spot it.

For lunch, there was an assortment of sandwiches, fruit, chips, coleslaw, and cookies and cookie bars, oh and pickles! (I love pickles, in case you are wondering.) To drink, you could choose between water, pink lemonade or iced tea. The perfect summer drinks for relaxing by the water. Steve T. stated at one point, how much he was enjoying the iced tea and how he couldn't get enough of it.

After making it down past Ford Parkway, we turned around and headed back up stream, waving to other boats and people along the shore. For those that were interested, there was the much beloved game of BINGO to be played. Our winners were JW, MAF, and SG. Soon after, most of the people made their way to the boat's decks to get a firsthand account of how the Mississippi River locks work. As the boat entered the locks, the views from inside the boat darkened due to the walls on both sides. The boat was tied to the one wall and soon the boat began to lift as water was let into the locks. Once on top, the boat was let out and there was an amazing view of the Minneapolis skyline, the Stone Arch Bridge and the Mississippi River Dam. We spent a few minutes here, before reentering the locks, which now had to lower us and returning to our docking location. Here people exited the boat, said their goodbyes and headed away.

Don't worry, if you did miss the PKT Picnic this year, there is always next year. Though I cannot promise you a boat, I can promise great memories will be made, as they were this year.

Greetings from the PKT Financial office on Fillmore Street! Yes, it has been a busy couple of months, but things are coming together nicely in my little PKT world. I love the big windows which let a lot of sunlight in and the freshly painted red wall, but most of all I have been enjoying getting reorganized. I have the move to thank for now having a cleaned out file cabinet, new systems of filing and less clutter in my office. Though at times if you come to see me it would be hard to believe, but I do like a clean desk and not having to search for things.

However, like with any move there are many changes that happen. The biggest one I've noticed to be affecting me in my office is changing over of the address. Up until recently, I never really thought about how much mail I actually get for PKT and our clients. Nonetheless, I think I am making good headway on updating outside agencies with our new address. So, here is a friendly little reminder: if you have not updated our address in your system, please go ahead... feel free... enjoy doing so. I would so very much like to get your letter, information, form, payment, and yes, even your bill out as quickly as possible so that I can help you in a timely manner. Enjoy the rest of your day!!

Sharilyn Korte, Director of Financial Services

STEVE'S SCOOP

HAPPY NEW YEAR! I hope everyone made it safely into 2014!

On behalf of PKT I would like to apologize for the tardiness of this issue getting out into your hands! BOY what a busy 4 months we have had! As most people know, the time between about Halloween and after the New Year is PKT's busiest time. We have parties to plan and host, client vacations and trips to stay with families to arrange. There are employee vacations to work in and approve, holiday staffing changes to accommodate, and year-end business stuff to complete. All this, and not to mention the Christmas gift gathering and giving AND the decision on who will be Santa and the Christmas party.

NOW, add in leaving a 3900 square foot office space we had occupied for 10 years and moving into a new 3000 square foot office before 11/30/2013! To make that even more challenging, but exciting too, the new office space was not a ready to move in, already built-out suite. It started out as an OLD, damp, dilapidated brick and timber building. We got to design our 3000 square feet from basically a blank slate. As exciting as it was to do, it took a ton of time, and pulled me and some others away from routine tasks (like getting this newsletter out on time, etc. ☺)

So, with ALL this said, thank you ALL for your patience through these past 4-5 months! It is greatly appreciated! THANKS also to Joe Klein, from Hillcrest Development, LLLP (our new landlord) for working diligently at keeping his stated promise that his job was to ensure all parties are happy! We are happy! Thank you to Scott Tankenoff, Managing Partner at Hillcrest, for allowing us this opportunity to reside and do business in one of his fine renovated buildings! Thanks to Jerry Driessen, from CBRE, for guiding us through this move and for introducing me to Hillcrest a few years ago! AND, thanks a ton to Nat Shea and Jessica Meidinger from Tanek, Inc. who worked to create and design our new space. Thank you Matt Sever and Alex McMillan from Sever Construction for taking what Tanek designed and making a real, living and breathing space!

So, off we go in our new digs, back to NE Minneapolis where we 1st started almost 20 years ago ☺! It's good to be back! Please stop by to visit whenever you can, there is plenty of FREE parking in our lot ☺! Once the weather warms, we may have an official open house, but if not, or until then, we would love to see you! Plus, our building sharing partners, Jim and Wade own and operate Sociable Cider Werks, a working cidery and tap room, so if you visit on a Thursday or Friday after about 3:30 PM or so you could check out what they have on tap and grab a snack from the food truck outside ☺!

I am thinking I have about used up my Pat Matt allocated PKT Press article space so I should probably cut it off here. Thanks so much to ALL the PKT clients, families, and employees for supporting PKT and allowing us to serve you! It is truly humbling and exciting to think back now as we enter our 20th year and to look ahead as we plan for the next 20!

OPENINGS UPDATE

PKT always has openings for new clients for the In-Home department. Anyone interested in more information, please contact Tennille Carlson at 612-788-3998 x 114 or Steve Tschacher at 612-788-3998 x 105.

We are now accepting both DD and CADI Waiver clients.

MATT'S MEMO

View from Honeymoon Bluff*

Summer came to an end, but it's always fun to look back at what the PKT crew has been up to over the previous months.

This past summer was the third annual Guys Trip Up North. This year was a little different in that the trip grew. This trip consisted of seven clients and three House Coordinators. Each of the guys from the Pink House attended and three of the four at Brown House opted to go this year: Mike M., Bill S., Bob E, Clint V., Jim R., Jon R. and Bob L. With the increase in number of guys going Up North, Tim S. and Duane S. enlisted Chris B. to tag along as reinforcement on the trip.

The guys left on a Monday morning and headed north. This year they stayed in a cabin up on the Gunflint Trail. They had a large cabin that fit the whole group and were able to spend some time hanging out by Gunflint Lake and seeing the beauty of the great north.

Some of the highlights I'm told were the drive up to the cabin and the drive back to town. I can imagine 10 guys and two minivans would make for an interesting six hour drive. Unfortunately the guys were up north when the temperatures were upwards of 90 degrees, meaning they didn't get out hiking as much as they wanted. They did have a good time sitting around the camp fire and driving up the Gunflint Trail and eating some pizza at Sven & Oles in Grand Marais. The guys also had some fun shooting off fireworks near the lake and of course indulging in some messy smores!

The large group of guys headed up in late August, and before they went up, two of our In-Home guys Tom C. and Mark B. were sent to do some recon and see what the resort was like. I had the opportunity to go up in June with them (to the same resort as the large group). The three of us spent several days sightseeing in Grand Marais and hiking a few of the many trails on the Gunflint Trail. Tom and Mark were great at setting up camp and helping cook over an open fire. The guys ventured on a three mile hike to Magnetic Rock*, it was a long difficult hike but they both had great attitudes and pushed through any fatigue to get to a beautiful remote spot. We also went on a much shorter but steeper hike to Honeymoon Bluff*. After hiking up several hundred stairs, we got to the top where you could see for miles over several different lakes. We then went into town and took part in the Summer Solstice Festival in Grand Marais where they had music and a play. The guys really seemed to get into the spirit, and the last day before leaving Mark was able to get out on the lake in a canoe. He said he had a great time and even had a close encounter with a loon.

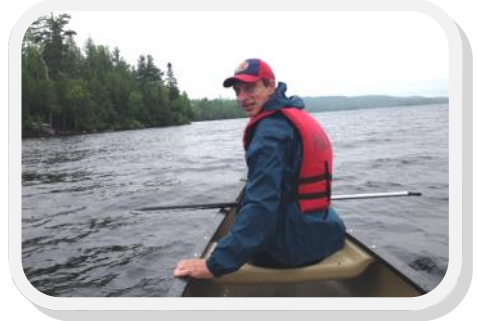

The summer trips have become something many of the men in PKT look forward to each year. The clean air, beautiful sights and purity of the outdoors does wonders for ones spirit. I can't wait to see how the trips continue to grow and change with each summer that comes and goes.

Matt Wahl, SLS Director

GUY'S TRIP UP NORTH

Bob E., Clint V., Tim S., Bill S., and Mike M.

The camping trip this year served as a good way for Tim S. to say farewell to the Pink House guys. Tim has ventured into a new chapter and is pursuing a master's degree in London. The guys were sad to see him go but wish him luck in his new adventure! We here at PKT wish to say Thank You Tim for your three years with the company and dedication to the Pink House guys and we wish you the best of luck!

IN-HOME CONNECTION

There is an In-Home client who is truly a “Jack-of-All Trades”! This individual enjoys working with wood and can be quite creative with the things he makes. He has taken old cell phones and breathed new life into them. He also dabbles in the area of tweaking electrical appliances! Who knows, there may even be some plumbing work in his history! This individual is Lane M.

Lane has a workbench both at his house and at his dad’s house. He enjoys puttering around and making different items; he’s even made a bench! Another thing Lane enjoys doing is taking old cell phones he gets from people and making them work. Lane will be in the car with staff, takes out an old cell phone and pulls up a map, showing staff right where they’re at! Lane also enjoys using his old phones to take pictures. Lane can also get quite creative when it comes to working with electronics. With a little re-wiring Lane can tweak items such as lights and old fans

Lane likes to stay physically active. He enjoys going walking with staff at the mall and also outdoors at various parks and nature centers. He will stop and watch some of the wildlife, smiling contentedly before indicating to staff that it’s time to move ahead. If Lane wore a pedometer whenever he went walking, the numbers would surely be off the charts! He also enjoys going on bike rides with his dad.

Lane also attends many of the PKT client parties. So, the next time you spot him at a party or just out and about, be sure to say “Hi!”.

It has been very enjoyable writing about our fantastic In-Home clients these past five years, and highly rewarding to have worked with them. It is with mixed feelings that I announce I am no longer working as the In-Home Coordinator. I truly enjoyed working with all the teams of the In-Home clients and will miss working directly with each of these wonderful individuals

However, I have not left PKT, just transferred over to the ‘other side’. I am very excited about a great opportunity, that being the new House Coordinator at the Pink House! It has been many years since I have worked as a supervisor of a group home and I am very happy for the opportunity to once again take on this exciting challenge! I look forward to a long tenure with “The Guys at Pink” and getting to know each of their teams.

Christopher Bastyr, Pink House Coordinator

WELCOME ... PKT would like to extend warm welcomes to ...

We’re happy to welcome Mohamed M., our newest In-Home client, into the PKT family. Originally from Somalia, Mohamed now resides in Minneapolis with his family. For the past several years, Mohamed has worked with Community Involvement Programs (CIP) in Bloomington. In his free time Mohamed is interested in exercising, going to the mall, watching movies, and going to the library. Please join us in welcoming Mohamed to PKT!

Darin Schluender, our new In-Home Services Coordinator shares his story with you ... “I’m a Minnesotan through and through. Born in St. Paul, I grew up and went to high school in White Bear Lake. I was very involved in extra-curriculars, especially football and basketball. After high school I crossed the border and entered enemy territory, where I attended the University of Wisconsin – Eau Claire. I graduated with degrees in Communications and Sociology.

Before working with PKT, I worked at a company called Twin City Transportation. While working for TCT I fell in love with my clients, many of whom are disabled and friends for life. I’ve always had a passion for helping people and that’s why I’ve ended up here at PKT. During the basketball season, which really runs year round now, I’m also a basketball official.

Away from work I have many interests. You might find me at the YMCA working out or devouring whatever book I’m currently reading, be it fiction or non-fiction. I have a passion for local/indie music and love to go to live shows. Another interest I have is good film. Forget about whatever blockbuster is making hundreds of millions; I’ll be at the Uptown watching an esoteric documentary. Snobbish? Maybe, but I know what I like. I also love animals; dogs more than cats. And I love to cook (and eat). I pride myself on being very approachable so don’t hesitate to say hello and introduce yourself. My office phone number is 612/788-3998 ext. 112.

SPOTLIGHT ON

This edition our Spotlight On column features one of our charismatic, humorous, self driven individuals who resides at the Pink House. Though those characteristics can apply to all of the men at the Pink House, in this edition we are chatting just about William "Bill" S. Bill is an easygoing guy who loves to get out and see what the world has to offer. One of his favorite things is going to McDonald's for his daily coffee. Bill takes great pride in his independence and can be seen around Saint Paul riding the city bus. Much like the post office, 'Neither Rain, nor Snow nor Sleet' will stop Bill from getting out into the community. Bill is also a big sports fan; he tries to get to several Twins games each summer and the last two winters he has made it down to several of the Minnesota Wild games.

Bill also is an avid "trip taker" with Ventures Travel. He has been averaging around three trips a year. This past summer he enjoyed a fishing trip up north and an "in town" trip where they spend the night at a camp ground in Eden Prairie and then made it to two Twins games. They even got to take a tour of Target Field and ran into a few big names.

This summer following one of his trips, he came home on a Friday afternoon and left for the Third Annual Guys Camping Trip on a Monday. Not much turn around time, but Bill wasn't about to pass up an opportunity to spend some quality time up north with a group of great PKT guys! Along with the traveling he enjoys chatting with his roommates and staff. Bill is often seen sitting at the head of the table at the Pink House and offering his two cents on any talking points. Though Bill can come off as a quite reserved guy, he has great insight on topics and rarely does he pass up on the opportunity to take a sarcastic humorous jab at his peers or staff, all in good faith of course.

Bill recently started working at Ally People Solutions. Bill is no stranger to the site as he was a long time employee with them up until two years ago when he had some health concerns that caused him to take a break from working. Fast-forward to today and he is in the same room with many of the same guys that he worked with in the past. Bill has said he really enjoys getting up every day and going to work. He likes chatting with his old friends and enjoys meeting the new ones. If he's not working at Ally, Bill has taken up a role here at the PKT office of cleaning once a week. Bill says he enjoys coming up to the office. I like to think it's to chat with all of the employees here, but he reminds me it's for the paycheck.

Though Bill can look quiet and reserved, next time you see him say hello. He has great things to say and lots of life experiences to share, and as long as there's coffee he's in!

Matt Wahl, SLS Director

PKT would like to recognize and thank the following Employee of the Month winners:

Bangela Smith - August 2013

"Always being on top of the monthly data, does an excellent job with the paperwork - Always having a snack prepared for the clients when they arrive home from work - Making needed changes to the MAR's sheet when a new client moved in the group home; her coworkers and supervisors were very appreciative - Always staying on top of the maintenance for the house - Always willing to pick up open shifts at the house - Making sure that important forms don't run out while staying on top of the 'goldenrod' trainings - Keeping her supervisors up to date with house issues and client behaviors"

LaQuita Perry - September 2013

"Spending time in getting to know what is important to the clients; talks to them about cars, music and animals - Being very flexible with her schedule; recently worked several awake overnights on very short notice - Jumping in and bringing tons of enthusiasm to the house - Never being fazed by clients talking inappropriately to her; able to laugh and joke to de-escalate some situations - Showing a genuine care and concern for the clients - Being "wonderful" to work with"

Sherri Vogel - October 2013

"Doing a great job at helping a client handle her parent passing by being there when visiting at the hospital, being supportive when grieving for their loss, helping her choose what to wear to the funeral, and giving the client the nurturing needed during this tough time in their life - Her willingness to pick up shifts at last minute, switching her schedule around to help a coworker out when emergencies happen, and offering to leave early to help coworker take less PTO - Doing a great job at reminding supervisors and coworkers the needs of the clients we work with and that sometimes we need to remember where the clients are coming from on a personal level - Being good at reminding supervisor of the needs for the house such as meds, house supplies and upcoming events - Being a great part of the house and helping make the house run well - Always being dependable"

Gepsy Guillaume - November 2013

"Communicating very well with the new House Coordinator about many different aspects of the house, from what supplies are needed, to how the other staff see things that are going on with the "guys" - Effectively dealing with challenging behavior situations and handling them in a professional manner - Encouraging the clients to eat their meals together "family-style" and always working hard to cook them good, nutritious meals - Getting the guys' needs met such as taking them to the bank to cash their checks and completing other errands as needed - Helping the House Coordinator learn about many different aspects of the house, i.e. where certain items are located and what techniques have worked more than others - Meeting the best interests of the guys during each shift worked, mindset is clearly always about them!"

Chloe Holum - December 2013

"Coming up with great ideas, such as setting up a game room at the Brick House - Advocating for the wellness of client needs - Shopping for the client's winter clothes - Effectively handling client behaviors gracefully at a Halloween party - Doing a wonderful job at getting the clients in costume and dressed up for the party - Being a great resource when dealing with on-call matters and tends to be easygoing when working on concerns - Having a great handle on working with the clients and they appear to have a good rapport with her - Identifying activities in the community for the clients to participate in!"

Christina Crothers - January 2014

"Consistently going above and beyond to make sure that all holidays and special events are celebrated at the house, accomplishing this with special meals, or craft projects to decorate the house - Working very hard to make sure that client's clothes look good and stay organized - Also makes sure that the clothes that no longer fit are replaced and allows personal preferences for the clients when shown what their options are - Being extremely flexible with her schedule when short staffed and working double shifts to help with the scheduling needs - Keeping House Coordinator up to date with items that are needed for the house"

Words to Live By ...

So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

1 Corinthians 13:13

THE PKT PRESS

is intended to provide information to the individuals we serve, the families and individuals who are so vitally important to those we serve, as well as the many members of the PKT community about what is going on at PKT Enterprises and just exactly "who" PKT Enterprises is...
